INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Shareholders
First Hudson Financial Group, Inc.
New York, N. Y.

We have audited the accompanying statements of financial condition of FIRST HUDSON FINANCIAL GROUP, INC. as of September 30, 2005 and September 30, 2004 and the related statements of income, changes in stockholders' equity and cash flows for the years then ended that you are filing pursuant to rule 17a-5 under the Security Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatements. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of FIRST HUDSON FINANCIAL GROUP, INC. as of September 30, 2005 and September 30, 2004 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the periods then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Our audits were made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements, taken as a whole. The statement of computation of the minimum capital requirements is presented for purpose of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the examination of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL ACCOUNTING CONTROL

To the Shareholders First Hudson Financial Group, Inc. New York, N. Y.

We have examined the financial statements of FIRST HUDSON FINANCIAL GROUP, INC. as of September 30, 2005 and September 30, 2004 and have issued our report thereon dated November 17, 2005. As part of our examination, we made a study and evaluation of the Company's system of internal accounting control to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards and rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission. This study and evaluation included a review of the accounting system, the internal accounting controls, and the procedures for safeguarding firm assets.

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining an internal control structure and the relevant practices and procedures. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of internal control structures, practices and procedures, and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's objectives under rule 17a-5(g). Two of the objectives of an internal control structure and practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

Because of inherent limitations in any internal control structure, practices and procedures, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate. Our consideration of the internal control structure would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control structure that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control structure elements does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that errors or irregularities in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving the internal control structure, including procedures for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at September 30, 2005 and September 30, 2004 to meet the Commission's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, management, the SEC, NASD, and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and should not be used for any other purpose.
